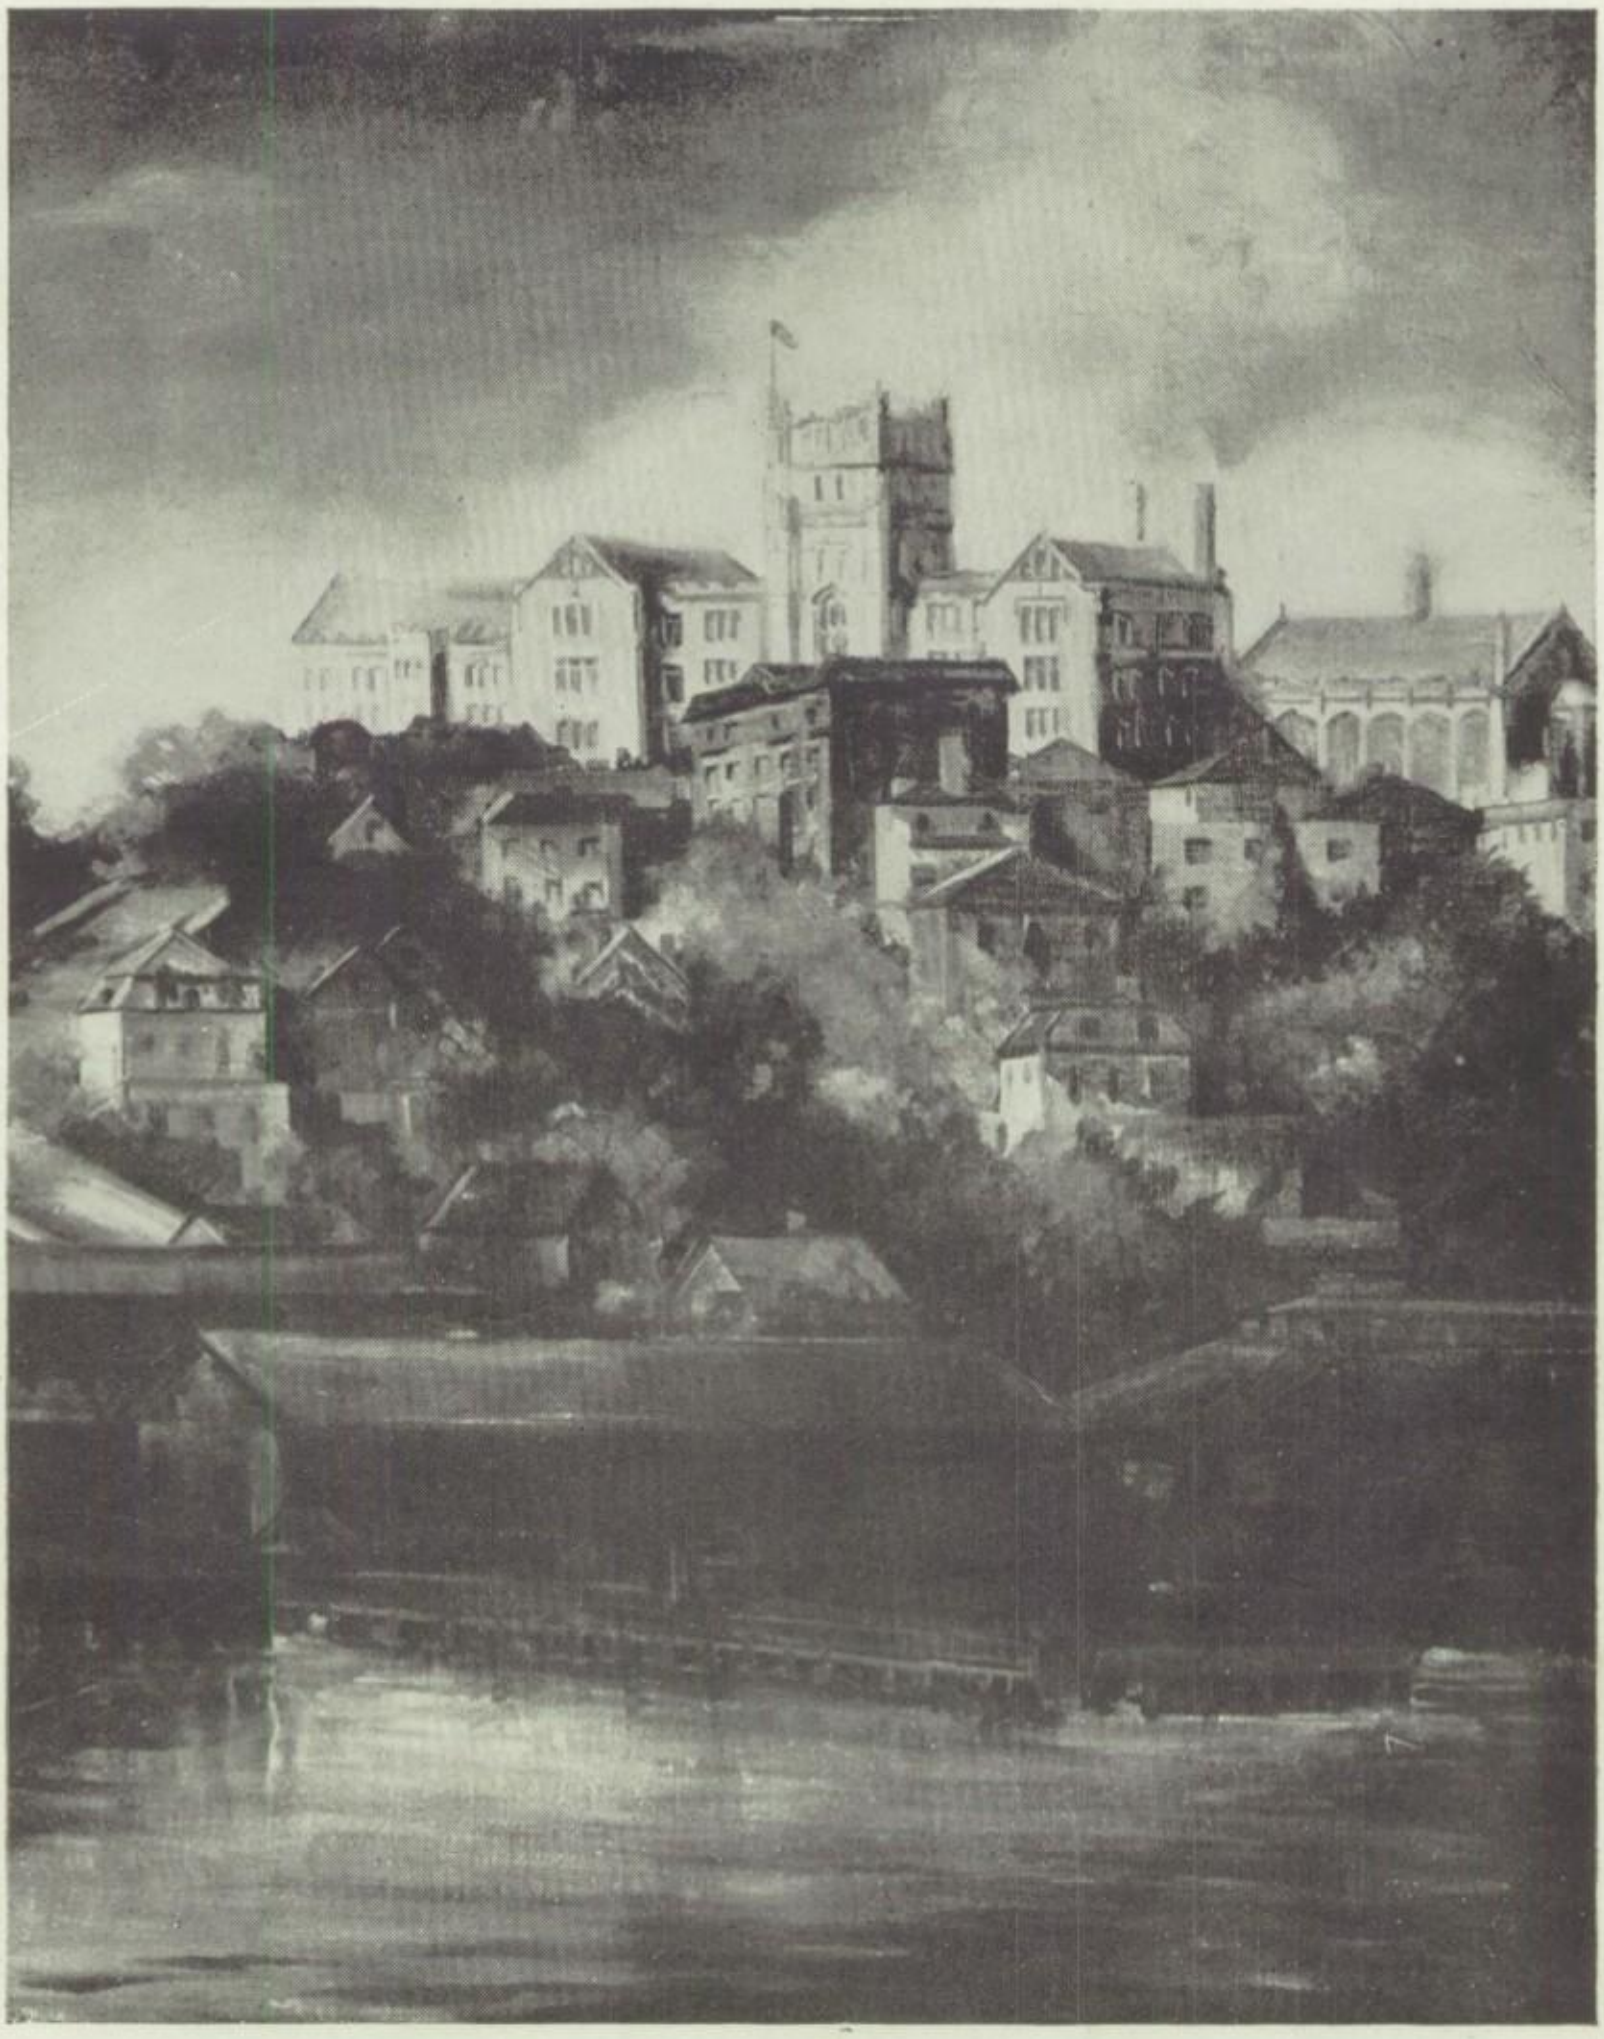
1945 Yearbook



Curtis High School

St. George, Staten Island, N. Y.

Dedication

"Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined." Like the gradual growth of the tree, our growth from inexperienced freshmen to mature young men and women is the result of nourishment, pruning and training. When we entered Curtis we were taught its ideals and principles. As time passed, our weaknesses were corrected; our abilities were strengthened; our interests were widened. To you, our grade advisers, on whom fell the greatest burden of supervising our growth, we gratefully dedicate our Yearbook.

A Message from the Principal

There's a band playing this evening. The night is mild, the windows are open, and I can hear the drum, the fife, and the trumpet. It must be at the Port of Embarkation. Soldiers are leaving for overseas, or perhaps they are returning. By the time you read this, more bands will be playing, for the war in Europe will have come to an end. Then, in a few months, our armies will be coming back in large numbers. Flags will flutter on the main avenues of our cities. Crowds will jam the streets. More bands, and the armies will march by with a quick step, heads high, happy and victorious. Our heroes will have returned.

That is, all will have returned—except, except those who lie where they fell. In the perpetual fogs of the Aleutians, on the shores of North Africa, on the beaches of Italy, near the invasion coast of Normandy, and under the blazing sun of the South Pacific—thousands will lie where they fell. The sun will never set on the grave of an American soldier. Rows of crosses will appear in each of these places, and the American flag will fly over them from sunrise to sunset.

These boys have made what we are pleased to call "the supreme sacrifice." In any event, they have given everything. But still there remains a question. A solemn question for you and me: Have they died in vain? In another generation, must this tragedy be enacted again? Will we, in a few years, set about building more terrible weapons, for a still more terrible conflict? Or will we remember what they died for, and lay the foundation of the new and better world for which they laid down their lives?

This is the question you will have to answer—chiefly you who are about to graduate. The new world—good or bad—will be yours to live in. The errors in its construction will plague you in the years to come. Building this world, you build your own lives. Except it is built with wisdom, "they labor in vain that build it."

John M. Avent.

Faculty

"He that planteth a tree is a servant of God."

Tender and frail were we when our teachers first planted us in the fields of knowledge and trained us in the ways we should grow. Now, fully-grown and flourishing, looking upward for the fulfilment of our ideals, but also reaching for firmer roots, we thank those who are truly "servants of God."

Faculty

In the last few years, the need for mathematicians and scientists has been increasing. With this idea in mind, the members of the Physical Science, Mathematics, and Biology Departments have striven to bring more knowledge to the students now preparing for the future.

Here we see those members of our faculty whose task it was to introduce us to the cultural side of life. We hope it was a pleasant task for them, though we have misgivings as we think of our first reactions to book reports, essay contests, library lessons, irregular verbs and the declensions of nouns, the elusive laws of economics, and past and present history. However, as the four years passed, our realization of the importance of the humanities has deepened. We recognize that it is a "must" in the adult world before us to be able to speak and write intelligently and coherently about subjects of current interest in the light of past experiences. We realize that now more than ever a knowledge of other nations and languages is an asset, if not a necessity. And so it is with increased understanding of what we owe in our growth to the inspiration of these men and women that at Commencement we fervently sing "Dear School of Ours."

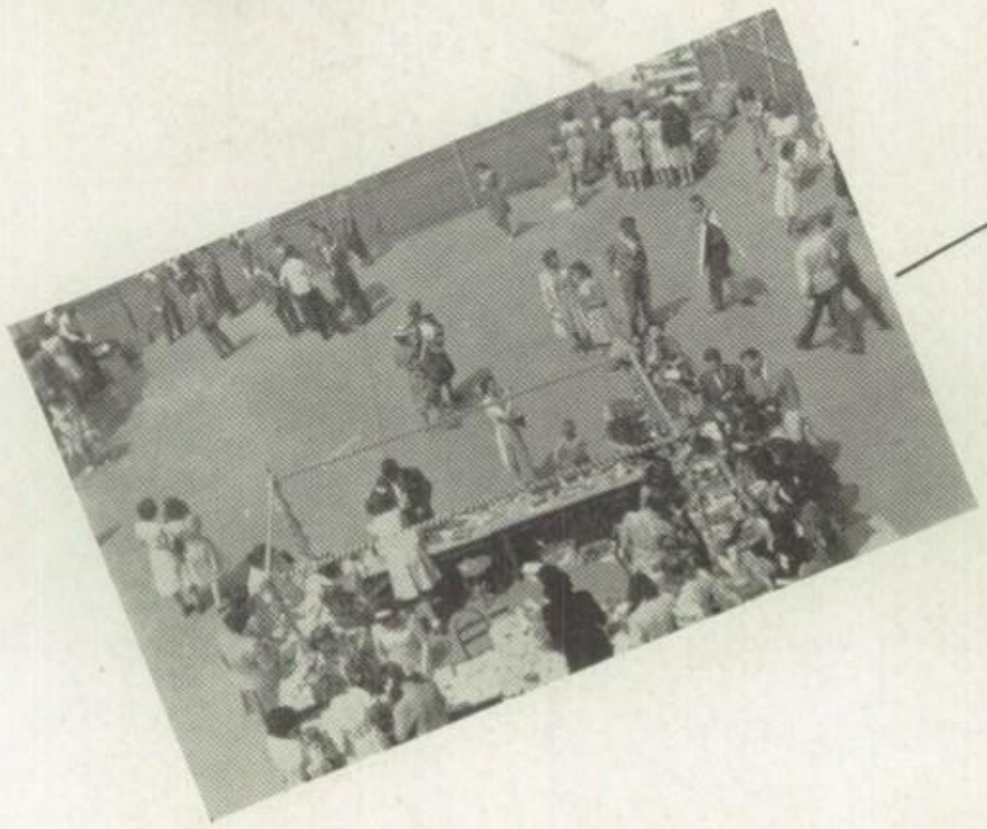
Activities

"The bud is on the bough again,
The leaf is on the tree."

As the years pass, we find opportunities to develop through extra-curricular activities, one for every taste and inclination. The small sapling becomes a tree, developing strong, leafy branches reaching out in every direction.



Arista

Don't just sit! Knit! This year the Arista induced students to "knit their bit," and gave forty afghans to the Red Cross. Its members undertook a paper salvage drive, ushered on Parents' Day, and sold Tuberculosis bangles. In the Arista we find students who have grown straight and strong, socially and intellectually. The Girl Leaders were Joyce Graves and Berniece Baumann; the Boy Leaders, Louis Gianvito and Donald Davenport; the Secretaries, Audrey Munce and Elsie Shakeshaft; the Treasurers, Harold Hunter and Alfonse Belfatto. Miss Marjorie E. Vroom is Faculty Adviser.

Marshals

On the sound of the first bell a squad of marked men and women dash through the halls. These "T" branded people are the Traffic Marshals, who see that Curtisites go the right way in the halls and on the stairways. The Marshals are commanded by Mr. Paul Denzler. In the fall term the officers were Louis Gianvito, captain; Ruth Horton, lieutenant; Donald Davenport, secretary; and Joseph Berman, treasurer. The spring term found George Solomon, captain; Claire Wimmer, lieutenant; Mary Mahoney, secretary; and Harold Egbert, treasurer.

Biology Honor Society

Why do you have blue eyes when your brother has brown? What really is tuberculosis? These and other questions, the members of the Biology Honor Society can and will gladly answer. The projects and research of these biologists dig deep into many fields. In order to reach a conclusion on the laws of heredity, the Eugenics Committee made charts of the family trees of its members. Experiments in diet were practiced on rats by the Special Activities Committee to see whether "milk and spinach are good for us—better than coffee and candy." Prominent Island doctors gave lectures to the club, while the trip to the Cancer Hospital, under the supervision of Mr. Oscar Goldin, faculty adviser, highlighted the club's activities.

Microscope Club

It doesn't take a microscope to discover the growing enthusiasm which accounts for the newest club in Curtis, the Microscope Club. Specimens from far and wide eventually find their way to its microscopes and microprojectors; dust from the corners of the school, bacteria, fungi, and even blood from the club members are used by the junior naturalists in their search for biological knowledge. Different types of Staten Island soil were also examined, while small insects and animals were dissected, and studied, under the direction of Faculty Adviser Oscar Goldin. The officers, President Elaine Rode, Treasurer Lester Baker, Secretary Pierre Bacher, and Marshal Donald Graves, planned trips to scientific museums, climaxing the club's activities.

The Log

When dusk begins to fall, and a light can be seen in the otherwise dark corridor, it's the "Log" staff worrying about headlines and other last-minute items that plague them and their adviser, Miss Dorothy A. Spear. The results are worth the worrying, however, for the "Log" has won many medalist ratings in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Contests. For the task of "covering the school," members of the staff are well prepared after studying journalism. In the same way, "Log" reporters are being fitted for future careers in the newspaper world.

But it takes more than reporters and editors to bring us the "Log." Bright and early Thursday mornings, members of the Circulation Staff dash up and down stairs, in and out of rooms, delivering the fruits of their labor on the previous day, when they folded "Log" upon "Log." With Miss Hannah Ferber to supervise them, these workers are an important part of the "Log" establishment. Another branch of the "Log" family is the Advertising Staff, which, under the direction of Mr. Benjamin Starr, persuades merchants to sell their wares via the school paper.

So, the "Log" informs, trains, but most of all, delights us. Carry on, "Log!"

LOG REPORTERS

1ST ROW: G. Garrison, A. Munce, B. Baumann, D. Davenport, D. Rowan, F. Halperin. 2ND ROW: C. Hurley, K. Flannelly, E. Snyder, N. Stolz, G. Dillingham, C. Baylor. 3RD ROW: A. Watters, J. Pan-American Club

The sunny lands of Mexico have been brought closer to us by the research of the members of the Pan-American Club. Under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Eakin, the students have explored the legends of our neighbors to the south, their different and interesting foods, and the customs which help make Mexico so colorful.

Latin Club

Who ever heard of Geometry in Latin? This year Curtisites did. Miss Marion Pratt, faculty adviser, made up propositions for club members to work out. This attraction not only kept the students up to par in Latin but also provided much fun. Members also gave talks on subjects relative to the language, which, they insist, is anything but "dead."

1ST ROW: A. Slezak C. Collins, G. Snell, C. Lennox, D. Stillwell, J. Clinton, K. Bowman, M. Levine, D. McVeigh, C. Harris, M. Cannetta. 2ND ROW: M. Polomene, C. Carlucci, R. Morris, J. Gardner, R. Italian Club

The Italian Club had its beginning about twelve years ago. It was organized for the purpose of giving pupils interested in Italian an opportunity to further that interest. This was maintained by holding geographical quizzes, singing Italian folk songs, and listening to records of Italian operas. For many years, it has been their custom, as their final gathering, to attend a luncheon in an Italian restaurant. During the past two years, the Italian Club has been holding cake sales for the benefit of the War Fund. Mrs. Olga Brigiotti is faculty adviser, while the officers this year were Albina Setaro, president; Carmella Sellitto, vice-president; and Jennie Riccardi, secretary.

Stamp Club

Do you know all the oddities and facts about stamps? You can be sure Stamp Club members do, for each week, under the direction of Miss Marion Pratt, they hold a contest on Stamp Facts, and many interesting stories come to light. The lucky member with the best score at the term's end receives a prize.

Library Squad

How could we progress without our library? That last-minute reference, the magazine we should have bought, the book on China, a chance to read just for "fun"—all these it offers us. Responsible for the library's efficiency, taking care of books and distributing notices, is Miss Bamber's eager squad.

M. Pannek, Miss Pratt, D. McVeigh, J. Salter, R. Burros, J. Gnas, E. Gualtieri, K. Avery, R. Maleeny, F. Bielefeld, W. Dimler.

1ST ROW: P. Vigurs, E. Kooley, M. Vere, A. Mahoney, J. Bregoff, G. Anderson. 2ND ROW: J. Madigan, J. Belfatto, A. Puca, J. Bobker, M. DiSanti, N. Dropkin, I. Aasby, B. Brann, G. Kerner. 3RD ROW: Miss Bamber, E. Hansen.

Trip Club

Join the Trip Club and see the world! Under the direction of Miss Nancy Corallo, the club's visits to many educational places broaden the students' interests, and prove fun at the same time. Included were the Museum of Natural History, the Planetarium, the Ice Show, and places not usually opened to the public.

1ST ROW: Miss Corallo, N. Trentalange, A. Trentalange, H. Gowski, J. Hansen, A. Hansen, A. Marato, J. Scalici, B. Rimanow. 2ND ROW: A. Adams, M. Pagliarulo, L. Santore, A. Setaro, L. Schwartz, C. Lehrer, J. Salter, M. Barone. 3RD ROW: C. Ventimiglia, J. Murphy, M. Spinelli, K. Bruns, D. Butler, P. Barland, B. Kendle, R. Miesner, R. Fuller.

Current Events

Problems of the world today are acute. Under Miss Margaret Magee's guidance, the youthful world analysts of the Current Events Club try to iron out these difficulties by discussion and debate. This year Curtis played host to fifteen other schools at a Current Events Conference, on the topic of Peacetime Conscription.

Choir

1ST ROW: J. Jones, T. Adda, E. Diamond, Mr. Dare, E. Fritze, J. Carstang, M. Christie. 2ND ROW: R. Pellegrini, B. Martin, J. Salter, M. Siegel, M. McCracken, S. Glinicke, N. Baker. 3RD ROW: J. Jacobsen, J. Havens, A. Mahoney, T. Griffin, J. Ohr, J. Olive, B. Marra. 4TH ROW: A. Campbell, A. Adams, D. Miller, B. Relyea, I. Wilson, V. Upham, D. Oppel. 5TH ROW: E. Bonventre, H. DeNyse, G. Today, as was true of all yesterdays, the members of the Curtis Choir are rendering musical service to our school. During the past months, the Choir, under the direction of Mr. George Dare, has brought to the students and faculty the popular tunes of today, and the inspiring works of some of the great artists of the past. This year, in lieu of the usual Christmas Pageant, the Choir gave a Christmas Concert of carols, which it repeated for the Mothers' Club. Plans for a Spring Concert were under way when we went to press. The Mid-Day Musicales meant much to everyone who attended them. In fact, in all it has accomplished, the Choir itself is a great contribution to Curtis life.

Girls' Glee Club

"The next number will be by the Girls' Glee Club." You may have heard this more than once at the mid-day musicales this year where, under the direction of Miss Yvette Attinson, the girls sang both classical and popular pieces. An ever-increasing membership testifies to the popularity of the group.

1ST ROW: J. Dizard, A. Knutson, D. Ginsberg, A. Gold, M. Pernicone, M. Beierlein, G. Ruffo. 2ND ROW: J. Remsen, R. Bradlyn, J. Hansen, J. Jacobsen, P. Fair. 3RD ROW: A. Negovan, V. Griffin, J. Kirchner, A. Finn, L. Siersema, A. Martino, A. Licata. 4TH ROW: E. Iannacone, R. Halliday, E. Hamilton, J. Desmond, S. Pierce, C. Wissemann, J. Moramarco.

Boys' Glee Club

"Quality, not quantity" seems to be the slogan of the Boys' Glee Club. Though they usually number no more than a baker's dozen, their tones echo melodiously from 401 to 108. Christmas Pageants and assemblies have benefited from their participation in the past, and will continue to do so in the future.

Orchestra

If you have strolled through the halls of Curtis during the eighth period, you have undoubtedly heard familiar strains of music floating through the air. Under the direction of Miss Yvette Attinson, the orchestra has played at assemblies, musicales and graduation. Through the years it has grown to be one of our Curtis traditions.

1ST ROW: E. Stillwell, A. Levy, P. Kollisch, J. Fountas, E. Selznick, C. Johnson, R. Knierim, J. Sterling, R. Valles, M. Piliere. 2ND ROW: J. Wood, G. Dorry, C. Shelton, M. Copp, A. Toro, N. G.O. Store

Bathing caps, banners, bangles, bonds, bus tickets, plus other necessities of school life can all be found in a tiny two by four, the G. O. Store. Under the guidance of Mr. Nathan Spector and Mr. Louis Poutasse, our G. O. Store has flourished.

1ST ROW: G. Parrotti, E. Hirsch, P. Steck, H. Lynk, M. Fetzke. 2ND ROW: B. Beyer, Mr. Poutasse, J. Glickel, D. Gibson, D. Stein, Mr. Spector.

History Office and Supply Room

The growth of our tree of knowledge has been aided by the Supply Room and History Office Squads under Mr. Robert Rice and Mr. Benjamin Starr. How could the Social Studies Department function without their cheerful errand runners? How could any Curtis teacher exist without supplies furnished by the Supply Room Squad?

1ST ROW: W. Johnson, F. Suffness, G. Dillingham, D. Schreiber, J. Byron. 2RD ROW: J. Rice, E. Biroc, Mr. Starr, Mr. Rice, R. Trismen, R. Grimshaw.

English Book Room

With the little office at the end of the second floor as its root, the English Book Room Squad branches out all over the school, filling orders for English teachers, taking care of thousands of books and book cards, and performing countless odd tasks for the faculty.

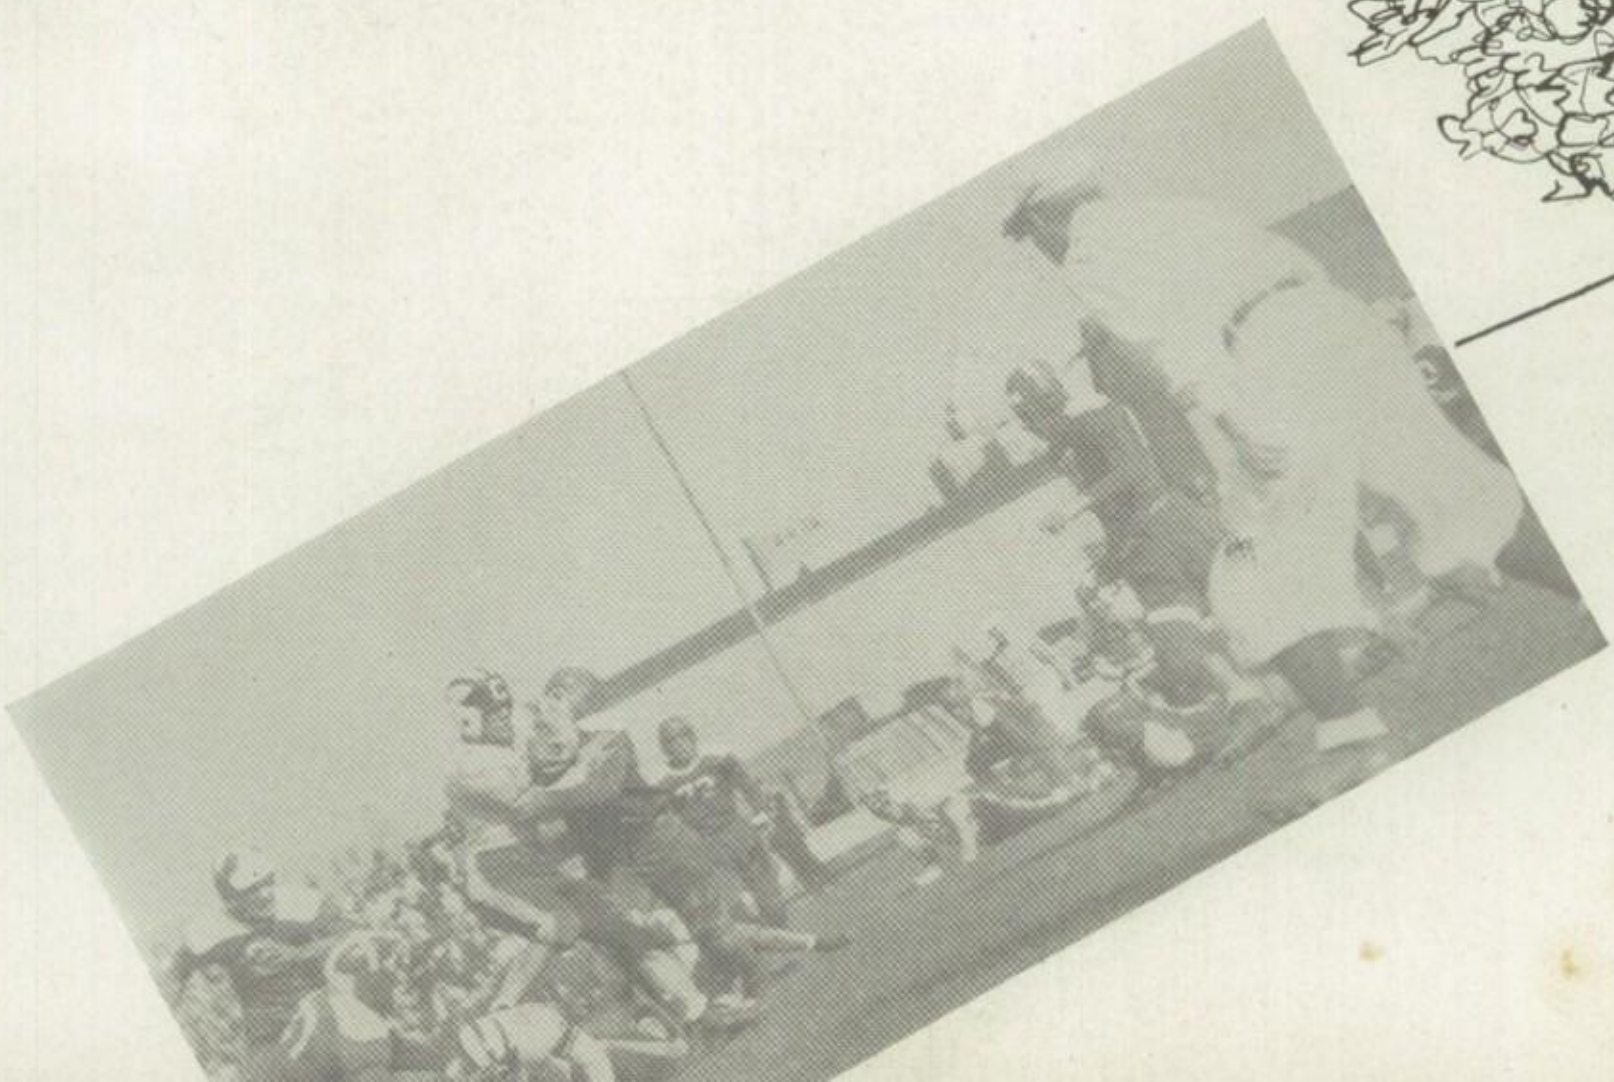
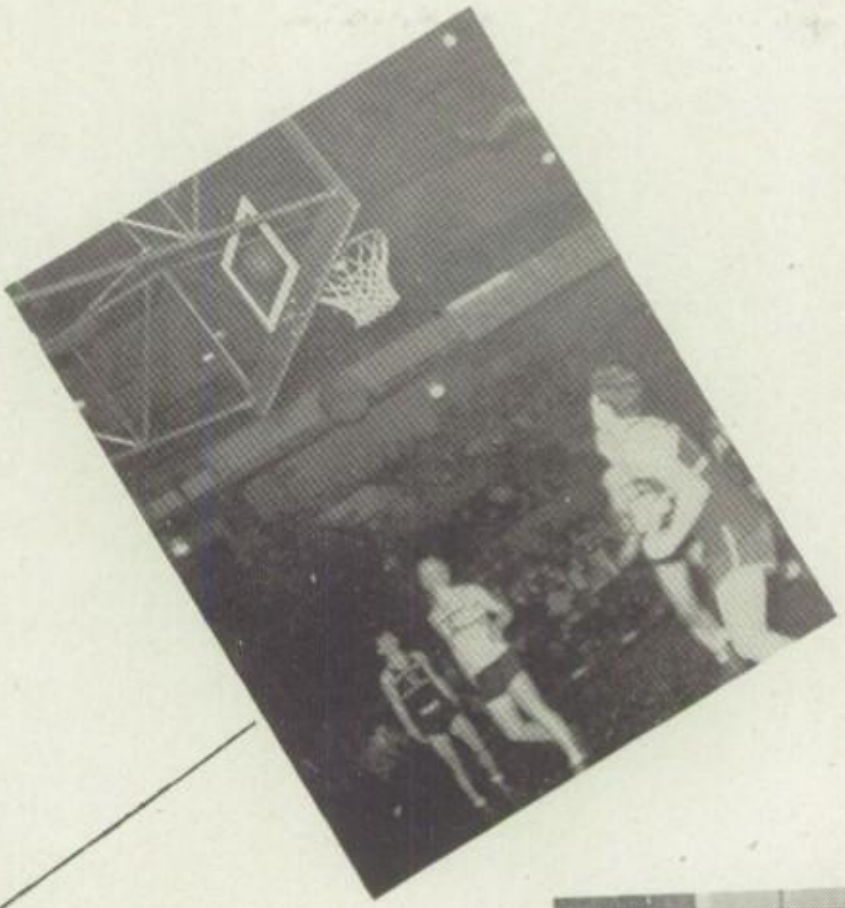
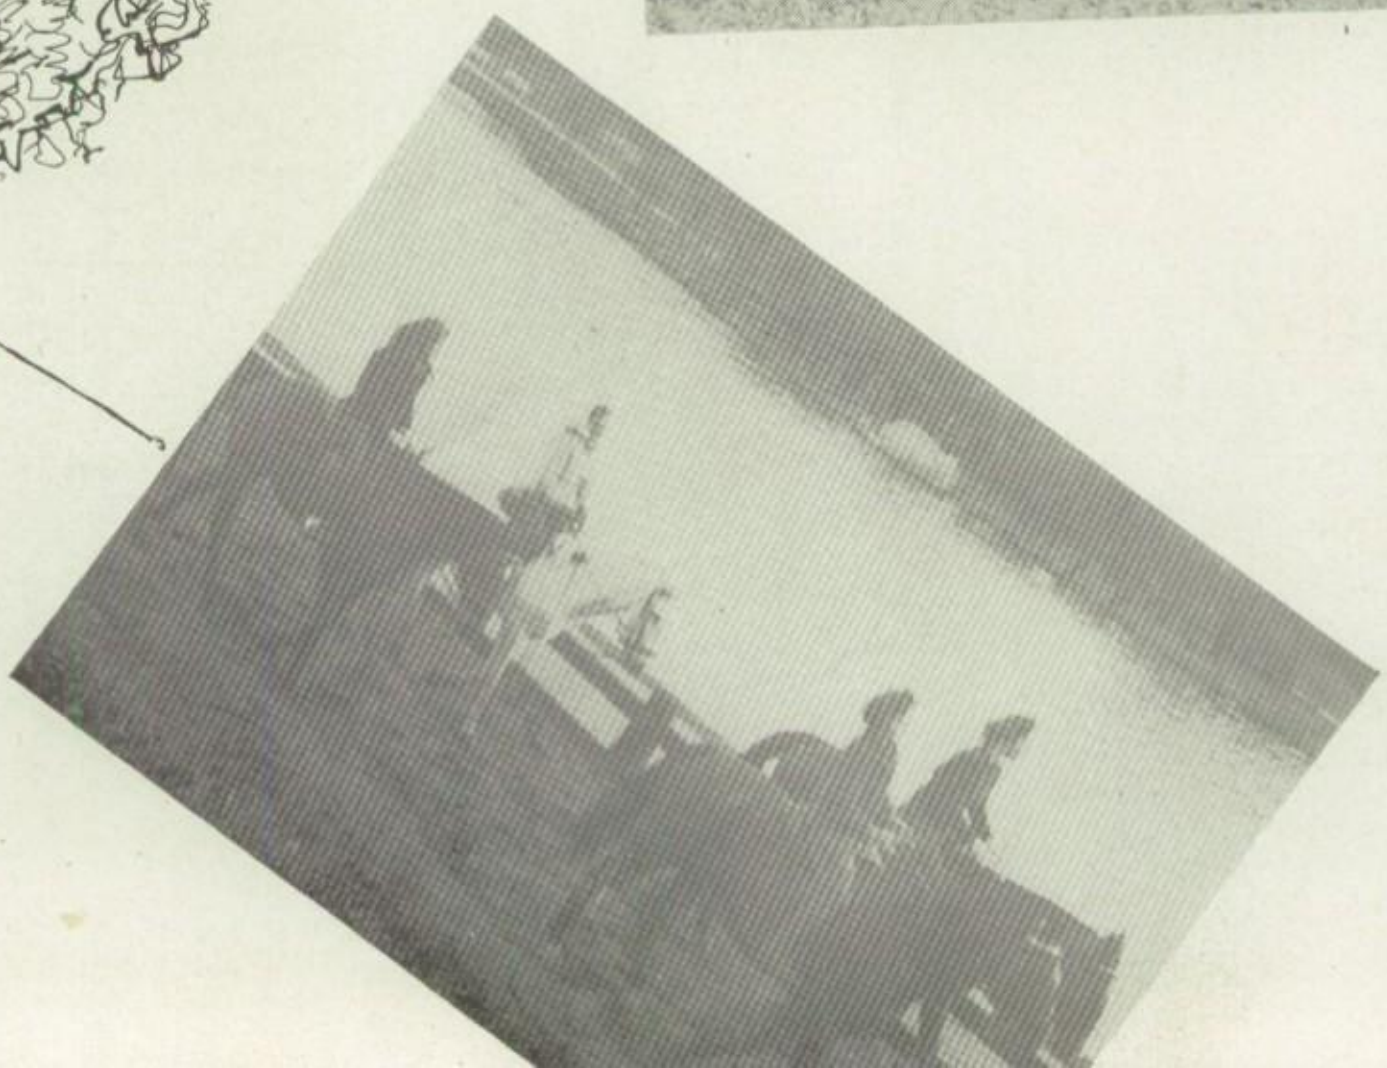
Sports

"The tree of deepest root is found
Least willing still to quit the ground."

Without athletics our tree of life would be weakly-rooted, one-sided, stunted. The sports program helps us to develop physically and mentally; it teaches us the value of sportsmanship and comradeship, team spirit and steadfastness.







1ST ROW: T. Ragucci, E. Bauerle, F. Canlon, E. Smith, T. Stark, F. Wigt, K. Lundy, L. Brogna, P. Pacifico, L. Gianvito, A. Krauss. 2ND ROW: A. Rockwell, S. Goren, R. Johnson, D. Dempster, A. Football

After a lapse of many years, Dr. William L. Anderson once again took over the coaching reins of Curtis' football team. The Club, under his tutelage, amassed a record of three wins, three losses, and one tie. Highlighting the season was the exciting game which we lost by a 12 to 6 score to the powerful, stubborn White Plains eleven. Our traditional rival, New Dorp, was defeated, 12 to 7, while other victories were gained at the expense of Ferris by a 27 to 0 score, and Far Rockaway by 25 to 0. Though leading through most of the game with Flushing High, the Red and White was held to a 6 to 6 tie when the Red Devils scored a last-minute touchdown. The other losses, to strong foes, were to Mount St. Michael, 21 to 0, and Union Hill, 6 to 0. Ernie Bauerle was generally considered as the backfield ace, but was ably assisted by "Red" Rockwell, Louie Gianvito, Tom Ragucci, and Al Krauss. On the line, the work of Captain Tom Stark, "Ace" Canlon, "Whizzer" Wigt, Pete Pacifico, Gene Smith, Lou Brogna, and Ken Lundy was outstanding.

Baseball

Coach Harry O'Brien's 1944 Baseball team, led by Captain Jimmy MacAlarney, succeeded in winning the Richmond Championship again, and fought its way to the City Finals of the Public School Athletic League, where it lost to Flushing the city crown it had won the previous year.

Spring practice for the 1945 team showed five returning veterans and many promising newcomers. The backbone of the team will be composed of first baseman Carl Fuglestad, second baseman Gene Burns, third baseman John De Luca, pitcher Roy Mathies, and catcher John Mulholland.

Basketball

Going further than any previous Curtis team in the City Playoffs, this season's Basketball team was one of the most successful in that it defeated New Brunswick, the Jersey State champs, and a host of Vermont teams, for a record of twenty wins and six defeats. After capturing the Richmond title, Curtis trimmed Franklin 37 to 28 in the City Eliminations. We lost to Clinton in the Quarter-Finals 34 to 32, in one of the most thrilling games of the season. The mainstays of the team were Captains Harold Hunter and Danny Baldassare, as well as Gene Burns, Seymore Ginzburg, Carl Fuglestad and Frank Westcott.

Swimming

This year swimming came into its own again, with a fighting team and Coach James Machleid facing a formidable schedule. Although handicapped by not having a full complement of swimmers the early part of the season, the team made a good showing against such schools as Lincoln, Tilden, Manual Training, and Erasmus. Two New Jersey schools, Henry J. Snyder and Dickinson, bowed to our natators.

Track and Cross-Country

The 1945 Track Team has elected Alvin Rockwell and Bernard Di Sarro co-captains. Early practice showed many returning veterans, who will try to carry our name to victory. Among them are Jack Fisher, Martin Godgart, Richard Rhodes, Vincent Baxter, and Nathan Shurman.

The 1944-45 Cross-Country Team placed third in the P. S. A. L. finals, thereby losing the city crown, which Curtis had held for several previous years. Donald Rowan was captain and Donald Davenport led the boys in scoring throughout the season. The team has vowed to regain the city crown next year.

1ST ROW: G. Nicolaisen, M. Kiely, E. Richardson, E. Trost, P. Freeman, M. Caines. 2ND ROW: Miss Siedentopf, D. Huelser, A. Setaro, B. Garber, A. Levy, G. Rubin, C. Nuzzo, E. Behrman, B. Stamler, V. Life-Saving and Swimming

Once a week the merry mermaids of Curtis High take a dip in the pool, under the supervision of Miss Edith Ripley. In Life-Saving, the girls learn, among other techniques, rescuing approaches and carries. Many who entered school non-swimmers have "submerged" full-fledged senior life-savers before graduation. Members of the Swimming Club also entertained the audience at the Dickinson Meet with original water-ballet routines.

Good luck at Colby
Jackie Holt

"Watch out for that tree!" warns the leader as the Curtis equestriennes gallop along the paths of Clove Lake Park. The Riding Club, another branch on the ever-growing tree of achievement in the career of students, is under the supervision of Mrs. Adele Franzreb. A Breakfast Ride highlighted the club's activities.

Riding and Dancing

Not only the tree's gracefulness, but also its sturdy strength may be found in the girls who practice rhythms with Mrs. Edna Stone, director of the Dance Club. At a Staten Island school exhibit, club members interpreted two original dances, one with a humorous, the other with a patriotic theme.

Seniors

"The lofty oak from a small acorn grows."

Need we say more?

Our Servicemen

Other members of 1945 whom we know to have joined the services before graduation include:

Ernest Bauerle
Allen Beyer
George Connelly
Joseph Daly
Dominic Diodato
Charles Fraser
Maurice Kerr
Richard Koski
Frank Pastore
Louis Spamer

We were unable to trace others who left prior to this year. Since graduation, many January '45's have entered the Services. We are sorry that press deadlines and lack of communication have prevented a more complete listing. Of all our soldiers and sailors, present and future, we are proud, and wish them much good luck.
